

Hi,

I'm so glad you are joining me to create your manifestation bubble. It really is a powerful process. I've found that it works wonderfully if you create the right intention and focus and then do what's needed to keep it flowing and abundant. (more about that in the follow-up PDF).

You can create a bubble for anything you wish, from a material item to a relationship, to more clients for your business. As you're working through the questions below, really feel into what you truly desire.

Here are a few questions to help you narrow down what you'd like to focus on during our session.

- ✚ Do I really want this, in my heart of hearts?
- ✚ How will I benefit from having this?
- ✚ When I think about having this, does it feel right?
- ✚ How will it be good for me and for others?

You might even try answering these questions a couple different times just to see if anything new has opened up around what you desire to create.

Please do this process BEFORE you come to our session so we can dive right in and get to work.

After our call, I'll send you a PDF of the written process itself so you can work with it to create bubbles of all kinds, if you want to.

Thanks for asking me to partner with you in this creation. I look forward to our call!
